Moments
they are are gone before noticed.

To grow and learn and love were the opportunities our years at Riverside High offered us. Although the way was rough, the students merged into daily living and discovered that life consisted of mixed emotions. We cease to look back on the needless occurrences and forgotten happenings of our days. Then all too soon these moments are gone before they are noticed. However, if we happen to recall these incidents perhaps it would strike a beautiful note and all our melancholy tears would change to searching smiles.

A man with glasses and a lab coat is working in a chemistry laboratory. He is leaning over a table, using a pipette to transfer liquid into small vials. On the table, there is a large Erlenmeyer flask containing a dark liquid, a bottle of water, and various other laboratory glassware. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the lab environment.

Daily Activities

The opening of each day at Riverside High School brought forth many incidents which we let slip through our fingers unrecognized. Drowsily listening to morning announcements, racing against masses of people for a cafeteria seat, and shoving across the hall to the water fountain all seemed so insignificant yet was something each one of us had experienced at one time or another. Each instance too, in its own way, contributed to our maturity in living while in return we were to give a small piece of ourselves.

Each book, locker, and person, was a part of this life at Riverside, yet not all were remembered or even noticed. Moments are gone before they are noticed, for we unknowingly consented to let the learning from these previous happenings drift away.

A drowsy Jim Bingle stepped off the school bus in anticipation of another day at Riverside.

Anxious students filed off the school bus and entered through the main lobby.

Beth Peeples exited her bus carrying a paper bag full of surprises.

All aboard for RHS!

Catching the bus in the morning presented a challenge to most people. Once on board some students had the opportunity to finish that morning's interrupted dream. Others worried about their history assignment back home on the kitchen table. Upon arrival to the school the bus was emptied and students prepared to face the busy day ahead.

Just inside the main lobby was the office where teachers checked their mailboxes daily. Mr. DiConstanzo, Mrs. Kalcevic.

Sally Minter was kept busy in the attendance office keeping up with the arrival of late students.

The function of the teachers' mailbox was to receive or discharge important news to the teachers each morning.

The main lobby was the center of each morning's activities. It was a place for taking care of business for most people.

Whether it was checking in at the attendance office or just talking to a friend, this was the ideal place for it. The main lobby was also a friendly place where students could wait for their friends or join the gang in conversation on the way to homeroom. Others would just sit and observe the arrival of teachers and classmates. These and other happenings proved the main lobby to be an important place to stop each morning at Riverside.

At the far end of the main lobby stood the senior bench — symbol of prestige and honor for senior guys only.

The bookstore was the place to go for pencils, erasers, paper, notebooks, mugs, etc. Merry Fleishmann, John Trozzo, Jim Hinkle.

Mr. Downing peered into an empty attendance office as if amazed by its silence

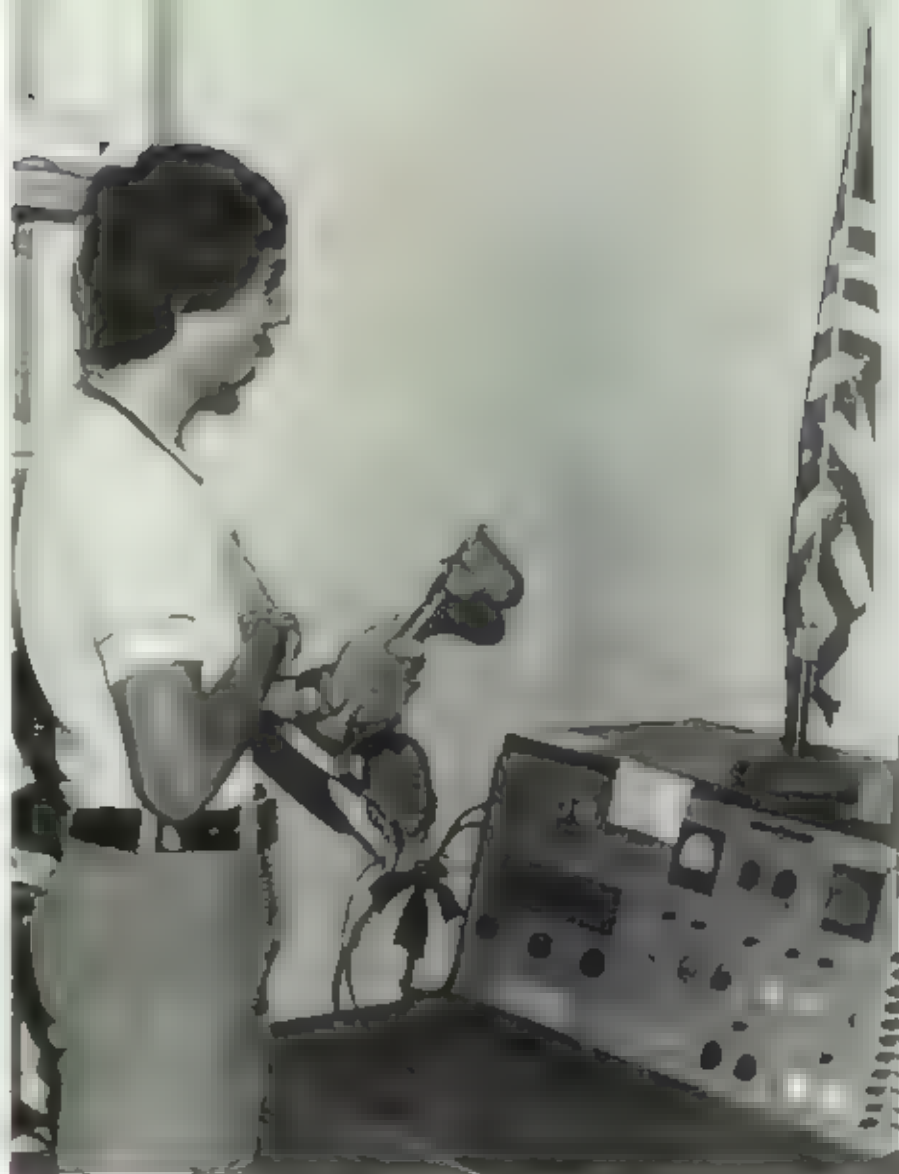

Debbie Hunsinger made an important phone call at the pay phones

Mr. Costa left the office each morning, prepared to help students and keep order in the halls

The expression on Mrs. Kevington's face showed that the job of a secretary is not only typing but also deciphering

There was a guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. There was a boss who made special announcements and supervised the guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. There was a girl who said the announcements and was also supervised by the boss who made the special announcements and supervised the guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. There was a clock that went "tick tock" to signal the girl who said the announcements and was also supervised by the boss who made the special announcements and supervised the guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. And this is the story of the morning announcements at Riverside

The Guy — Willie Eller

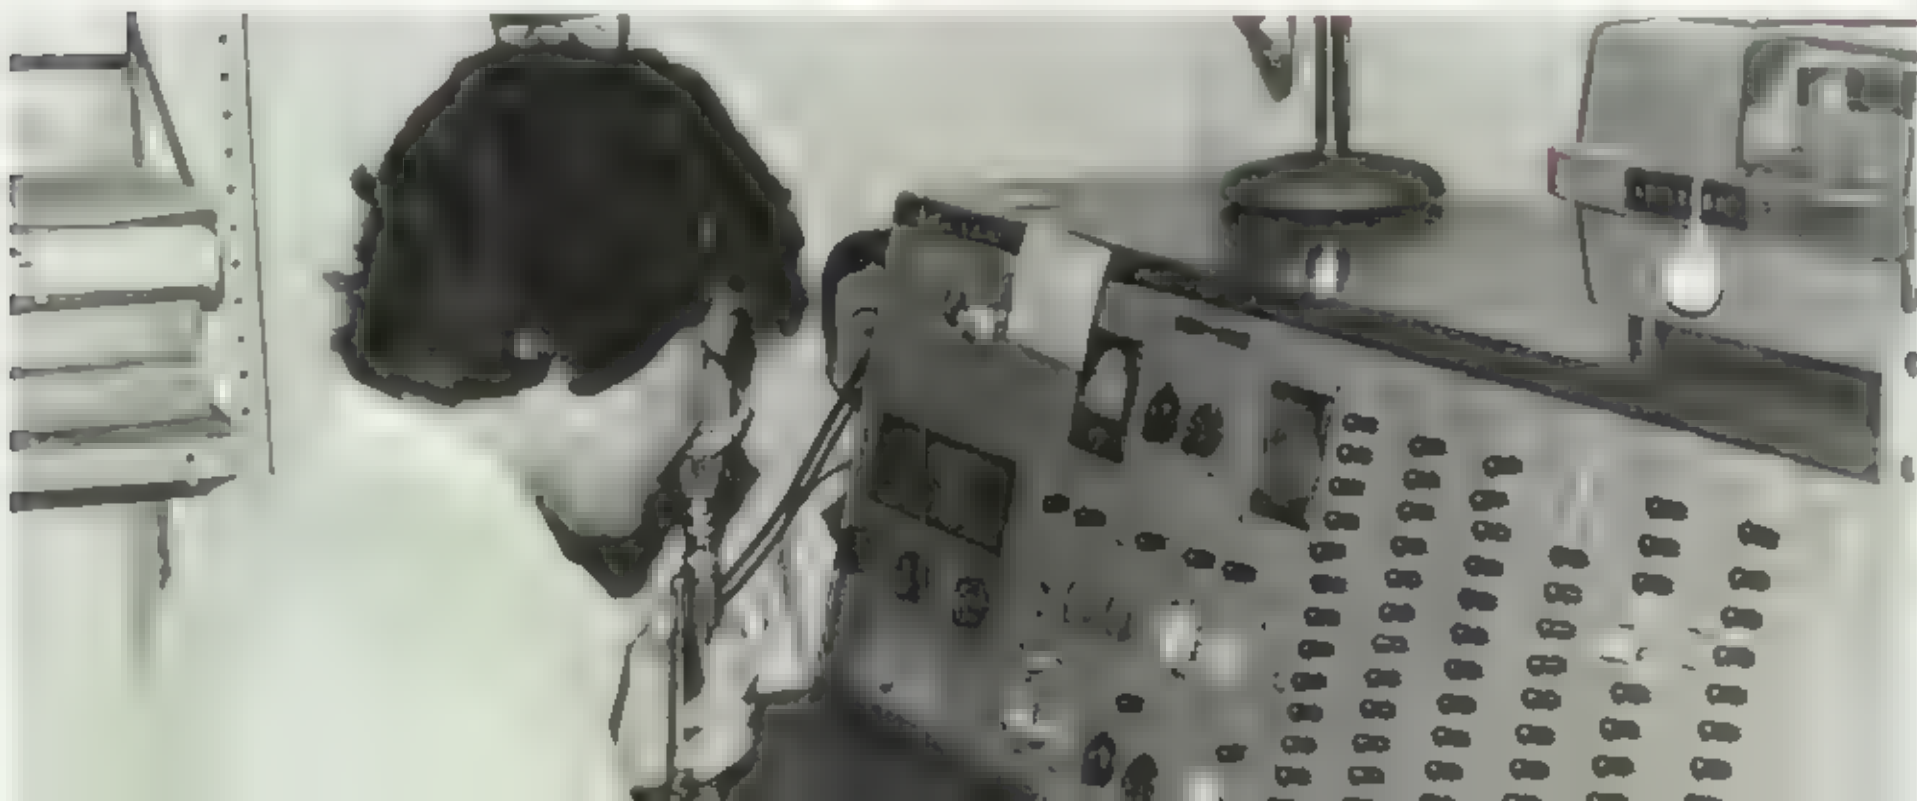

The Boss — Mr. Brooks.

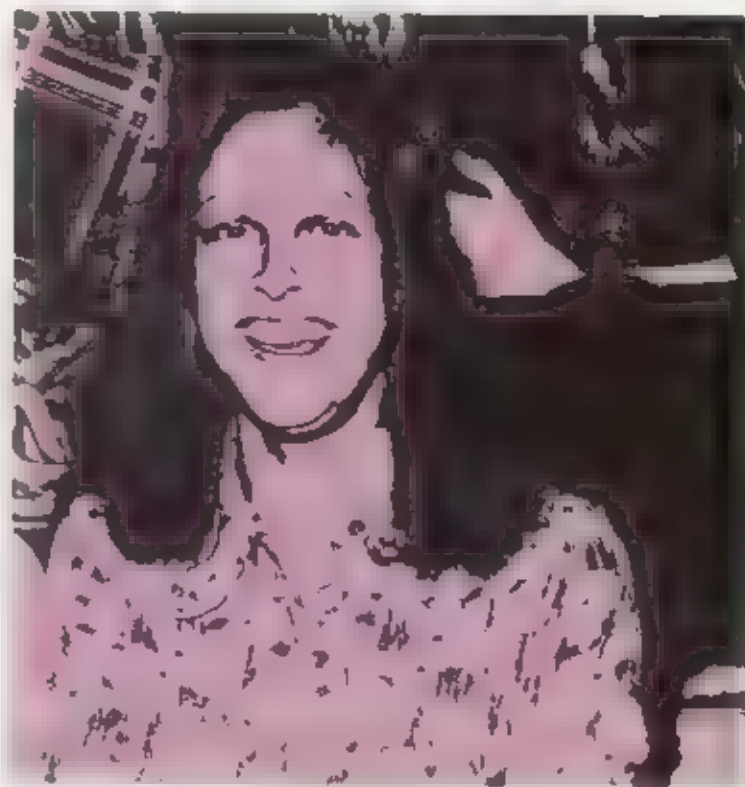

The Clock — Tick Tock

The Girl — Anita Nardone

A variety of expressions and emotions were shown in the faces of passing people.

Mary Sutkowski hammed it up.

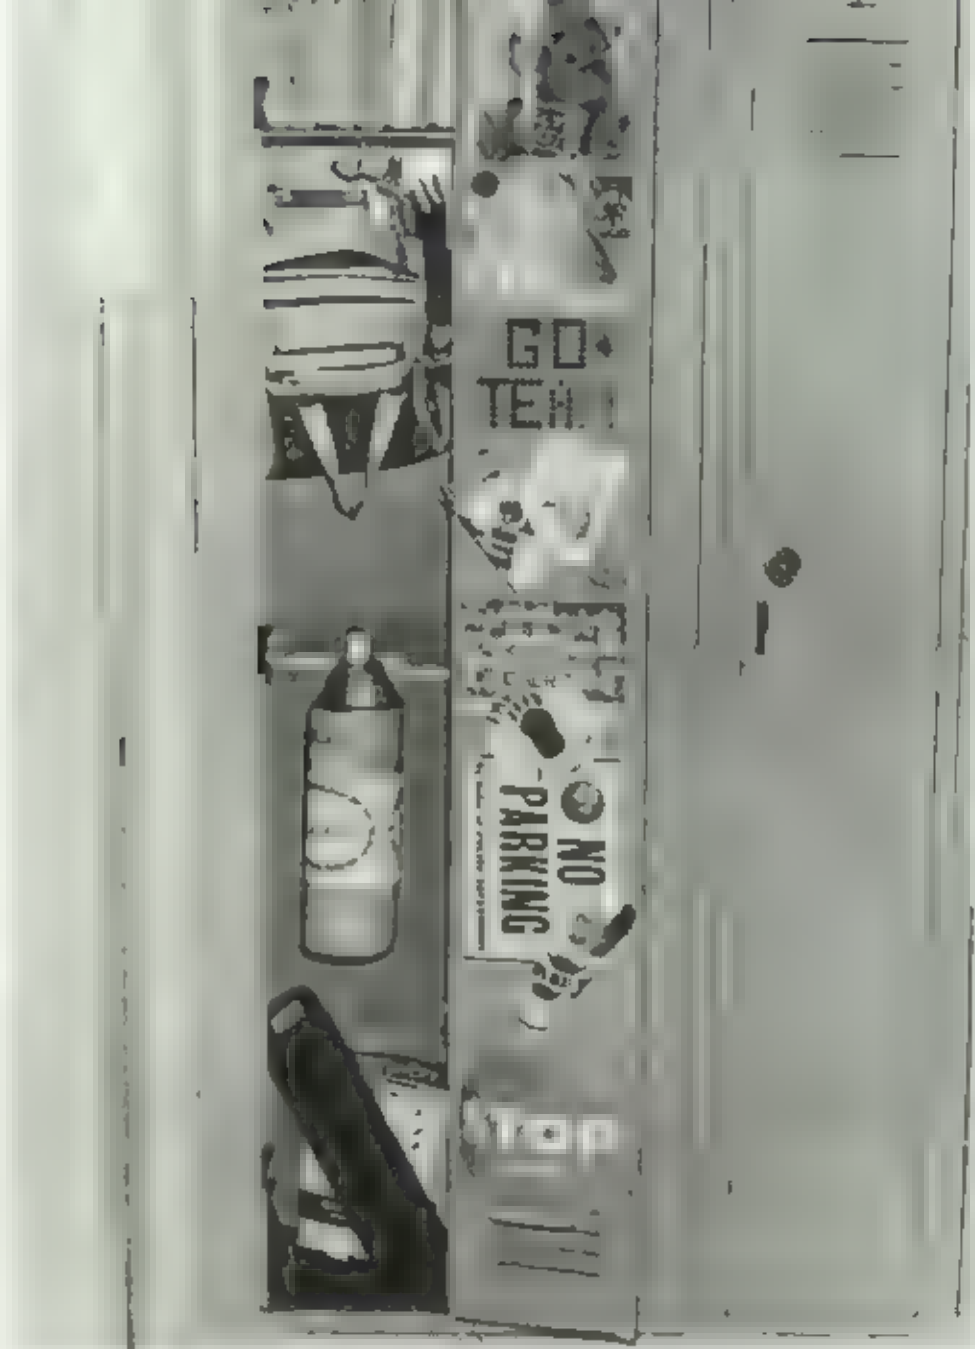

At the information desk Larry Honneffer clowned around as Scott Petrak concentrated on his school work.

28-16-42, or was it 26-42-16? The lockers were a very efficient means of frustration. Some required a good swift kick while others just needed tender loving care. After finally discovering the solution, it was a challenge to escape the oncoming barrage of paraphernalia. To find a pencil or a much needed math book, one would have had to rummage through excessive amounts of riff raff

Ruth Corwin let her inner-self shine through as she paused at her locker

Marlane Cupac demonstrated what could be done to enliven a drab locker

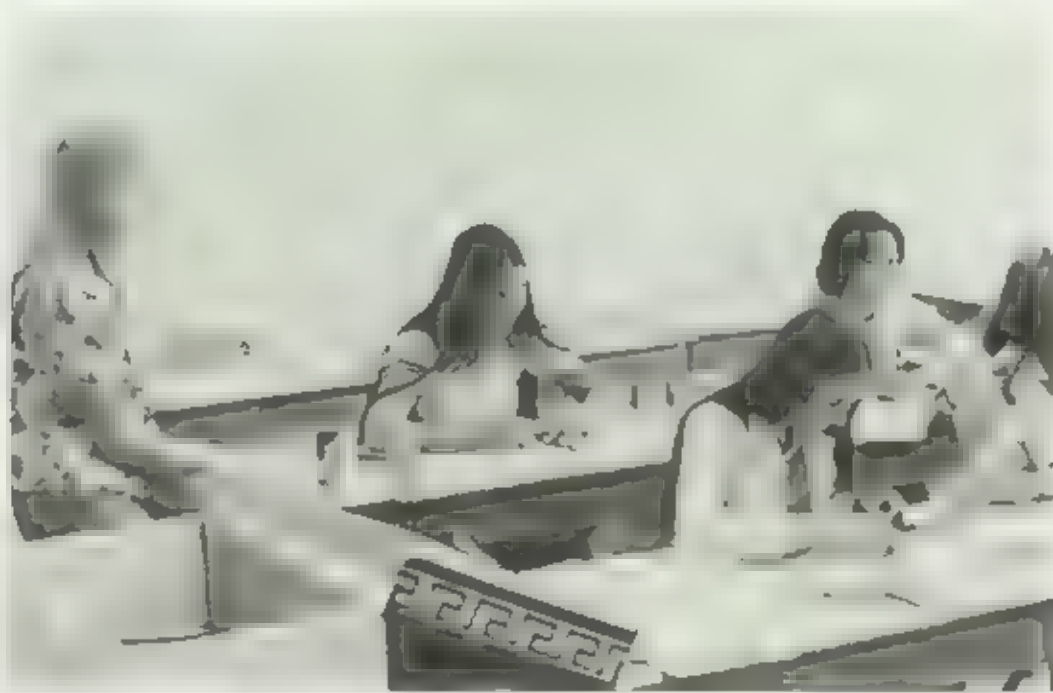

Pam Snider happily greeted a friend as she stopped at her locker to prepare for the day's activities

*A true friend . . .
the best possession . . .*

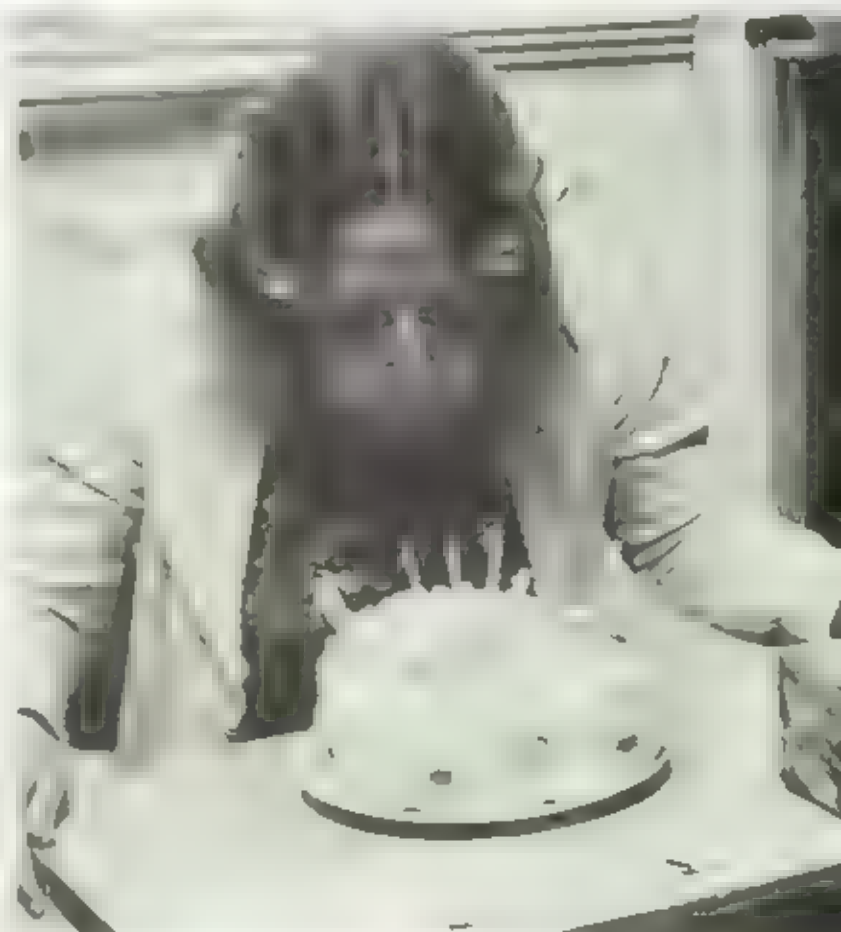

New friends were acquired at afterschool yearbook meetings

Friendship was apparent in the smiles of Larry Smith and Lisa Barry

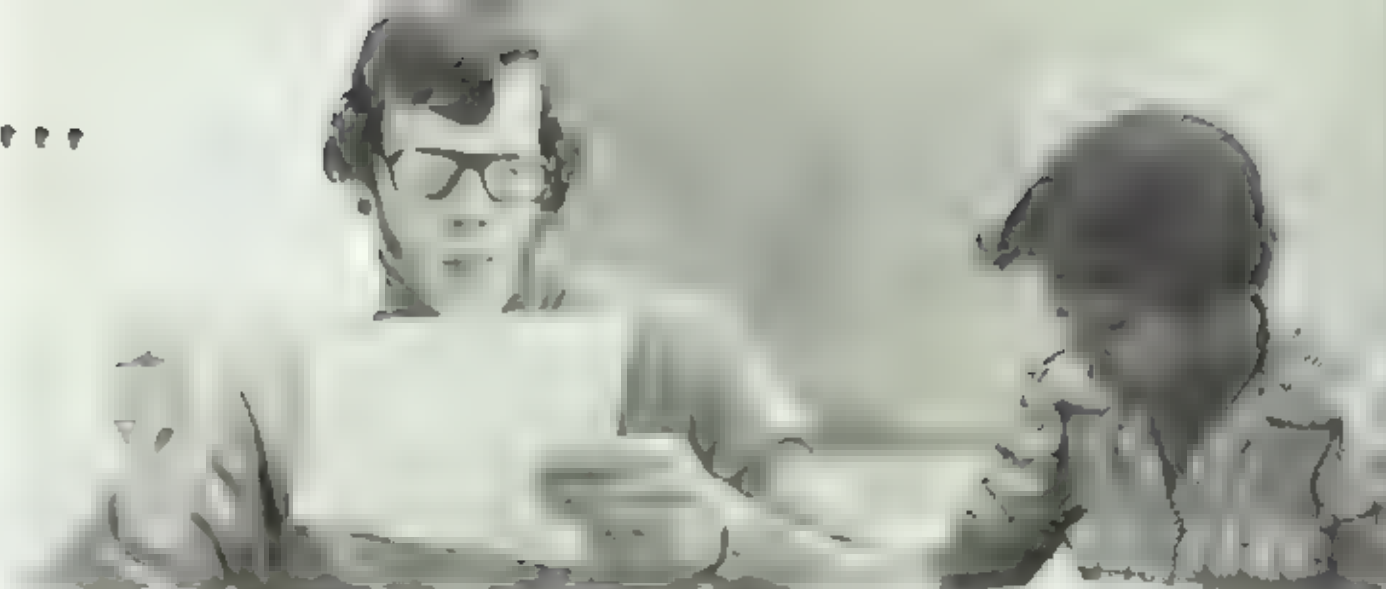

Monaca Baumgardner and Becky Pasquale danced to the latest hits at the class party

Kathy Ottaviani celebrated her 18th birthday among her friends in the Senior lounge

Moods revealed the inner emotions and feelings of a person. They were reflected by the actions and on the faces of individuals. Enthusiasm was expressed boldly while worry and sadness were expressed hesitantly. Whatever the mood of a student it usually affected not only them but friends and fellow students around them.

Glenn Boots and Chris Borders concentrated on the assignments.

Don Hairhoger paused to reflect on the day's activities.

Dave Grant let loose a healthy yawn during classroom activities.

Mindy Mackenstein cheerfully did her bookkeeping lessons.

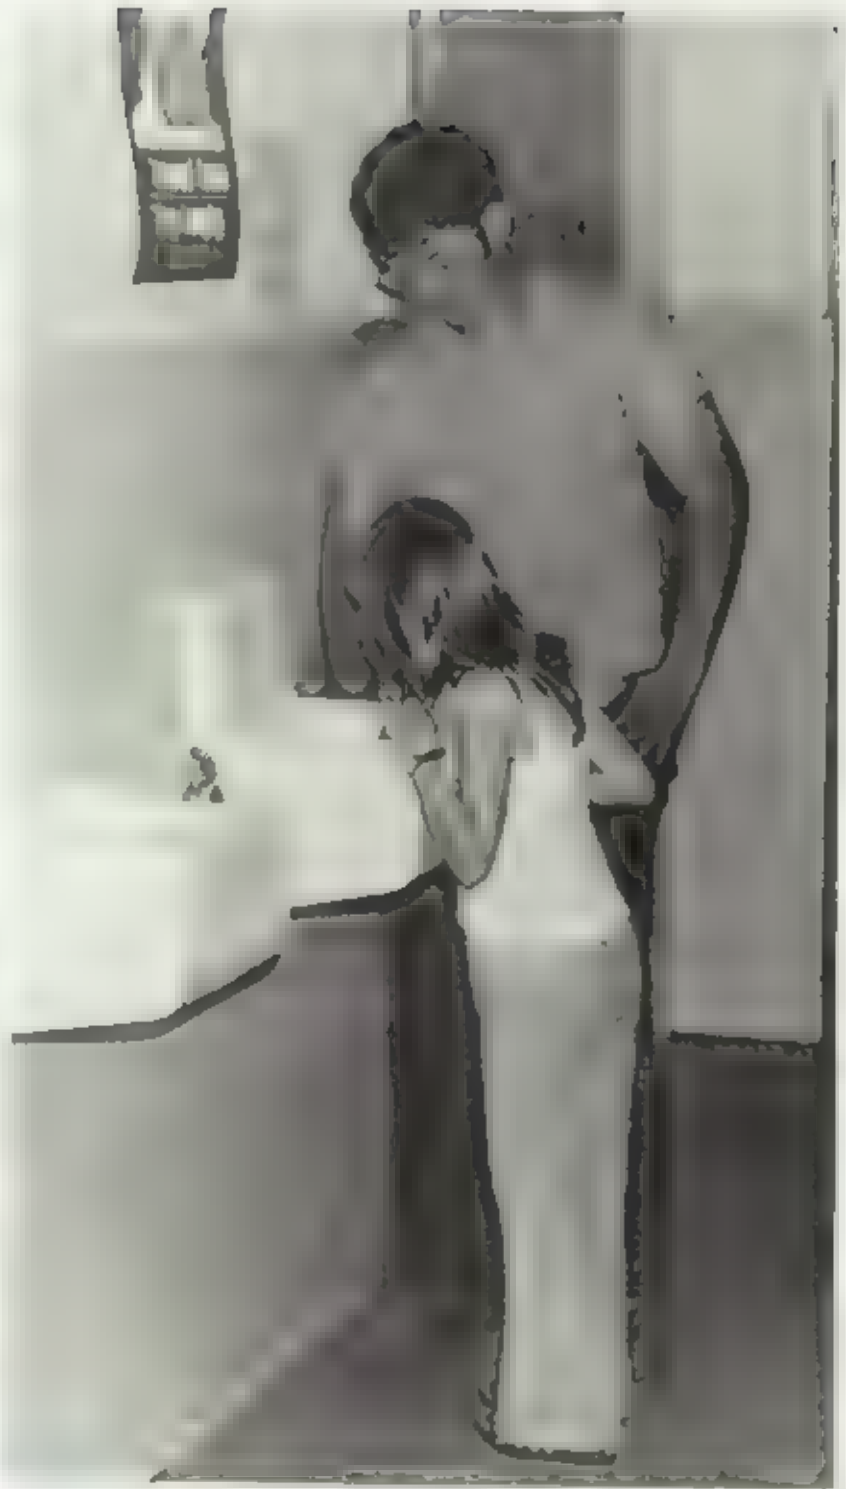

Mark Stronsider donned sunglasses to observe things in a different light.

Wayne Hall spent a quiet moment in thoughtful meditation.

moods reflected private moods.

Water fountains provided vital nourishment.

Sup Yablonski returned her tray after eating a hearty meal.

Students stood in line dreaming about the delicious meal they were about to receive.

Lunch period was a time for students to get together and talk as well as a time to eat.

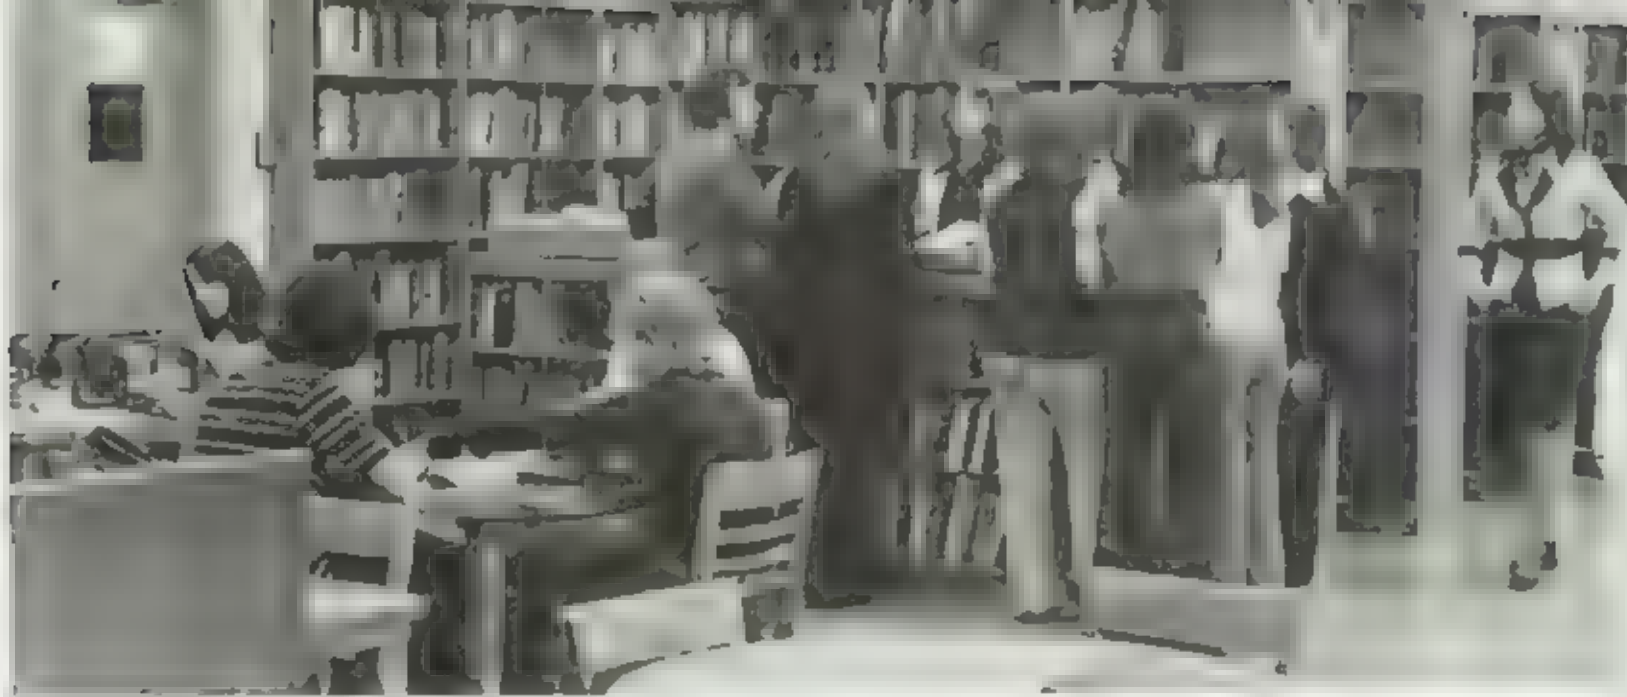

The cafeteria ladies worked hard to prepare an appetizing meal

*Anticipation —

Students purchased ice cream and crackers from Mrs. Moser at lunch

There always seemed to be room for another studious person at the library

Louann Fornataro checks in at the library before beginning her work

Ram Sander pondered over the library's wide selection of literature

Paula Smith made herself at home in the library

Although one was quieted, the library often was a place to meet and talk with friends

Health Suite and Guidance Office

Fearless courage shown in the eyes of Lamar Williams as Miss Carroll tended to his wounds.

Waiting in the health suite could be a frightening experience, but Karen Capello and Charles Santilo passed the time with a comic book.

At the Vocational Guidance Office, students could prepare for future jobs and careers.

Mr. Marziano offered excellent advice to students who needed help with school problems or future plans.

On the fashion front, Riverside students showed individuality in their manner of dress. A variety of styles were present and were displayed in many different ways. They ranged from the nostalgia craze to the far out modern designs where anything went Underneath it all were toes!

Farmer jeans were a relaxing attraction to the school wardrobe

Feet and toes gathered for a wild talk about '75 fashion

Kathy Ottaviani changed with the season as she donned a halter dress

Short length dresses were still part of the school-girl scene

Riverside fans backed the Panthers with SP-IR-IT!

Large crowds of Panther spirit filled the gym at the pep rally before opposing the Monaca Indians at basketball.

Special Activities.

The school year was linked together by outstanding events produced by Riverside High School students. Although experiencing the occasion was exciting, participating in the work and fun of all the hassles that went with the final result seemed to be what made the experience quite delightful and meaningful. However, even though long hours of tedious rehearsing for plays or ordering a mum for that special gift and although time was spent to look just right for the prom, only glimpses of these moments were fully captured. And then, one finds these moments are gone before they are noticed.

Dorothy Swick carefully applied make-up to Carrie Boots for dress rehearsal.

Tom Barry as Corrine prepared for the opening night performance of the all school play.

Carrie Boots as Millicent Ames rehearsed with an invigorated air.

Beth Majors prepared to make her debut as Thermometer Tessie along with her group of hikers.

Tanya Wasilewski as Joan attempted to keep her figure slim and trim.

Anita Nardone and Cheryl Aiken expressed concern over a confining corset.

1974 Homecoming

The football team set the spirit for the Homecoming festivities with a victory over Frew Mill. The coronation took place during halftime. The appropriate theme for the Homecoming Dance was The Winning Touchdown. Seniors who worked hard at organizing and decorating made it a success for all who attended.

The 1975 Prom — Oriental Gardens.

1975 Prom Court: Sherree Brown, Coetta Eonta — crown bearer, Kris Dauten, Becky Pasquale, Leslie Vargo — queen, Coral Petrak, Lynn Simon, Bonnie Varzebinski, Patty McDonald.

Pages: Miss Amy Mackenstein and Master Sam Barry walked arm in arm as they prepared to serve the 1975 prom queen.

Oriental Gardens, the setting for the 1975 prom, proved to be one of the most outstanding proms at Riverside. Upon entering the prom, couples found themselves in a strange, exotic land. Geisha girls and colorful murals added to the reality of this foreign land. Couples then preceded to the post-prom where they enjoyed a night at Monte Carlo. The evening was highlighted by gambling in a replica of a Las Vegas casino where prizes were awarded to the highest winners. Queen Leslie Vargo, reigned over this evening which was a strange mixture of the Orient and Las Vegas. Although the night came and passed all too quickly, it proved to be a time which will always be remembered.

Mindy Mackenstein and Craig Brown pause to view the decorations at the prom.

Couples who attended the 1975 prom, crossed the bridge and found themselves in an Oriental World. Cindy Fritzius, Chuck Mohr, Peggy Fischer and Jeff Bauer

Thom Cipro and Colleen Zikell enjoyed themselves as they imagined they were in the Orient

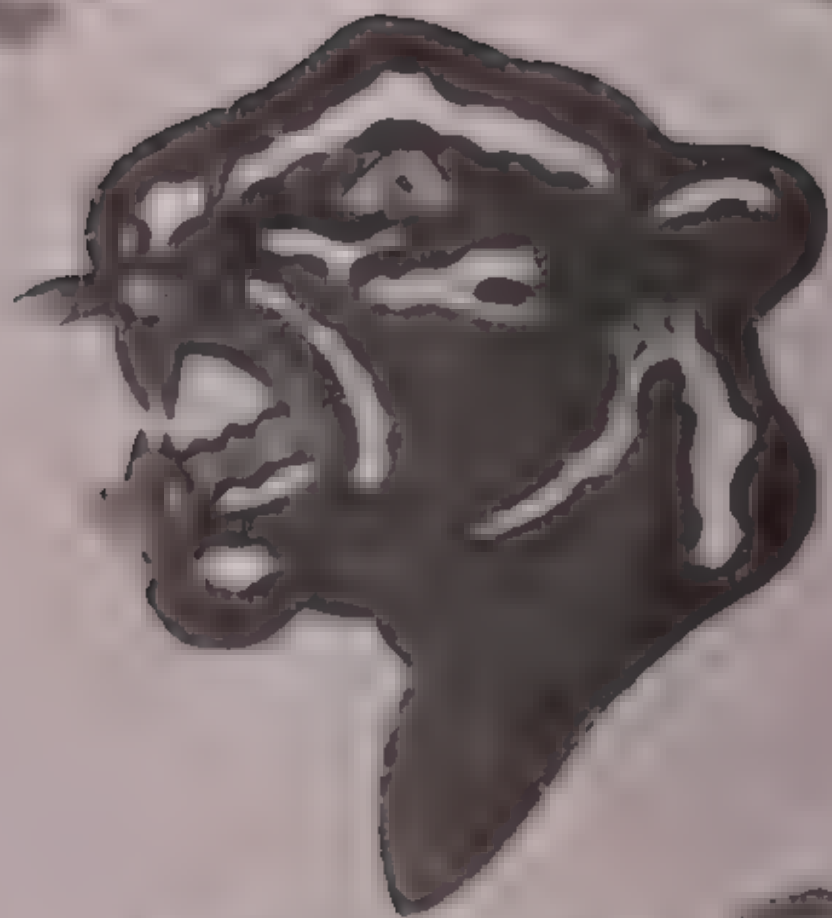

The Junior Class showed fantastic talent as displayed in the result of the 1975 prom — Oriental Gardens

After gambling away the hours at the after-prom, Karen Capello, John Trozzo, Kris Dauten, and Mark McCary began to show signs of exhaustion

Cheryl Swick and Eric Krut were in awe as they walked amid the beauty of the Oriental Gardens

From the heat of band camp to halftime shows performed for frozen fans at the last football games, the Riverside Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Fred Perino, proved their quality as marching musicians. Along with the Majorettes, Drill Team, and Color Guard, they added spirit and enthusiasm to every football game.

The band also showed their style in various parades at Ambridge, Beaver Falls, and Ellwood City.

The Wind Ensemble performed with the choir at the annual Christmas Concert and combined with the Concert Band to present the Spring Concert.

The Junior High bands were under the direction of Mr. Michael Poff. They displayed their talents in the Christmas and Spring concerts. Marching in Ellwood City prepared them for Sr. High. To end the year on a high note, the Marching Band attended the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia.

John Trozzo exemplified the patience and devotion that went into every selection.

The Pep Band helped to enliven a pep rally on Cowboy Day before the basketball team played the Monaca Indians.

Mr. Poff presented Mr. Kettler with a National Band Booster Award in appreciation for the many ways he helped the band.

Eighth grade ensemble entertained vocally.

The choir program at Riverside flourished under the outstanding direction of Mrs. Gladys LeFebvre and Mr. Kenneth Phillips.

Mrs. LeFebvre spent hours with her Seventh and Eighth grade choirs which resulted in fine performances at their Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Mr. Phillips tirelessly led the Ninth Grade Choir, Girls', Choral Union, Concert Choir and Chamber Singers; all singing without flaw. Their quality was proven at the many assemblies and concerts performed for the community.

One highlight of the year was the musical play, It's Cool in the Furnace, performed by the Concert Choir at various churches and at the Palm Sunday Concert. A great gap was bridged between two long time schools when, on National Music Day, the Concert Choirs from Riverside and Lincoln High School combined to present an exchange concert at the two schools. The Concert Choir made the year complete by raising funds and making a trip to Disney World in Orlando, Florida.

Football Team registers best season ever.

[illegible]

An explosive 1974 season left the Riverside football teams with the best record in the school's football history.

The Varsity football team displayed its "Panther Power" by being undefeated on the home field, and ended their season with four wins and five losses. The Junior High team finished an excellent season by being undefeated. The untiring patience and leadership of the coaches created teams that worked for a common goal — that of good sportmanship and honest play. Riverside's football season was characterized by that "never-say-die" attitude and therefore it developed a distinctive pride in Panther football.

Although the Riverside Golf Team ended their season with a fine 8-3 overall record, they were still unable to top Ellwood City for the section 10 championship. The top scorers were Mark Marion and Dave Vetica, with Darrell Brown being the lowest average player. Together they aided Ron Lee, Scott Rodgers and Curt Crawford to victory in seven league games. Of the overall 10 league games, the team lost only to the Ellwood City and the New Brighton teams. The team then went on to take 4th place out of twenty in the M.A.C. team championships, which include both Class A and AA schools. Individual achievements included Darrell Brown taking 2nd place in the section qualifier and advancing to the regional qualifier at Lake Arthur Country Club.

Scott Rodgers teed off, hopeful for a hole-in-one.

A thoughtful R. N. Lee pondered over the strategy he would use during the match.

With measured precision, Dave Vetica calculated the distance to his putt.

The self-pride and unfailing spirit displayed by each member of the cross country team led them to finish the season with a record of 8 wins and 5 losses. Hard work, determination, and long practices were keys to the successful season. The squad made a fine showing of 3rd place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference and 10th in the W.P.I.A.L. One of the top letterman, Glenn Walsh, was undefeated in dual meets and the winner of the M.A.C. Championship. His biggest achievement was placing 2nd in the W.P.I.A.L. Class B, which led him to place 21st in state finals.

The Varsity Basketball Team started their season out with an undefeated exhibition season. The team's 8-0 record was broken during a close game with Western Beaver. Even with the loss of Art Kunkle the team still played up to par. High scorer for the season was Dave Vetica, based on average per game. The Varsity squad captured third place in Section 17-B with an overall record of 16-6. The Junior Varsity squad played to an 18-2 season record, losing only to Rochester and Monaca. The Junior High Team went all the way to the top to take the Section 10 Championship, a first in R.H S. Jr. High history. The team went up against tough opposition but still managed to pull through to win the Mohawk Junior High Post-Season Tournament

Although the Boys Swim Team started off 1-3 in their exhibition season, the Fish won the W.P.I.A.L. Section 5 title. Riverside hosted their annual Christmas Tournament and when the points were totaled it showed the Fish had won again! The R.H.S. Swim Team captured 1st place at the Beaver County Invitational Meet, and finished 2nd at the M.A.C. Championship Meet.

Not only were they winning, the boys were breaking records. Senior captain Bill Milburn set three school records in 200 individual medley, 50 yard free style, and 100 yard free style. Bill also set two pool records in the 50 and 100 yard free style along with being undefeated in those two events in his senior year. In Tim Kelley's junior and senior swimming seasons, he was undefeated in 100 yard backstroke. Not only did Jim Spratt set a new 500 yard free style record, but he also was undefeated in section competition in this event. The old 400 yard free style relay school record was broken by Tim Kelley, Captain Bill Milburn, Jim Spratt, and Co-captain Brian Anderson.

Cheerleaders — the nucleus of school spirit.

Riverside's cheerleaders were the backbone of school spirit. They exhibited the enthusiasm and devotion essential to the success of a cheering squad. The cheerleaders diligently prepared cheers for each game and pep rally. The girls sold mums for homecoming and senior night, and made signs and posters for the halls and for the gym.

Row 1: Patty Crawford, Cera Petrak, Pepi Wasilewski, Bonnie Yarzebinski, Rose DeMark. Row 2: Lori Stacy, Sherree Brown, Patty Vetica, Carrie Boots.

Bonnie Yarzebinski leads a football cheer.

Mari Douglass and Lori Stacy cheer enthusiastically at a varsity game.

Always confident of a victory the cheerleaders swung into the football field.

The cheering sponsors were Mrs. Wasilewski and Miss Yanniello.

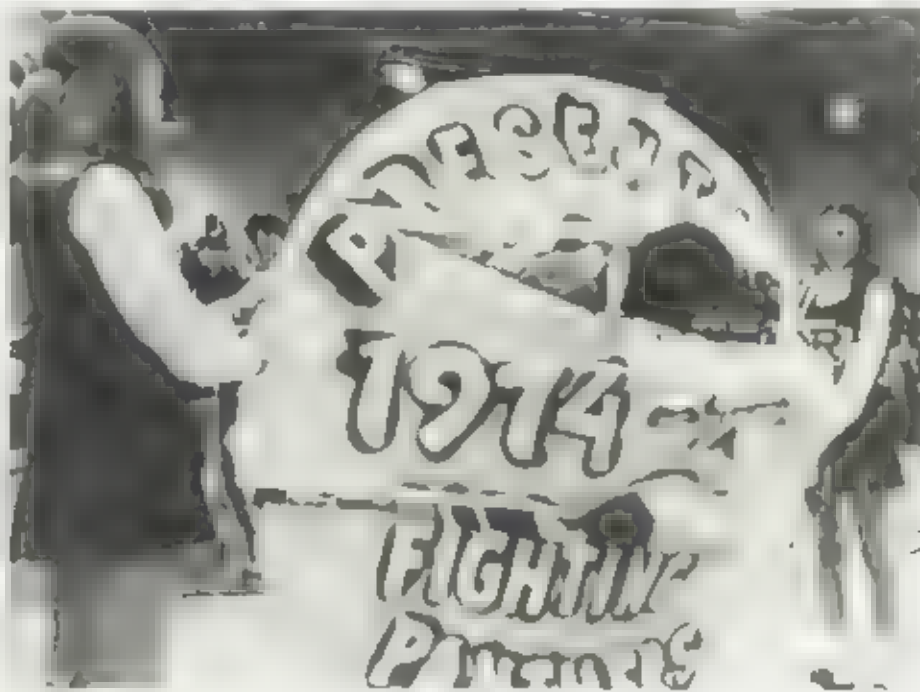

Not only cheering at athletic events, the cheerleaders aroused school spirit at a pep rally by dressing as cowboys to defeat the Monaca Indians

Girls finished second in Tri-County League.

Coach: Lori Hetrick. Diane Upker, Diane McConahy, Bobb Kewington, Tanya Wasieleski, Amy Higgins, Helbry.

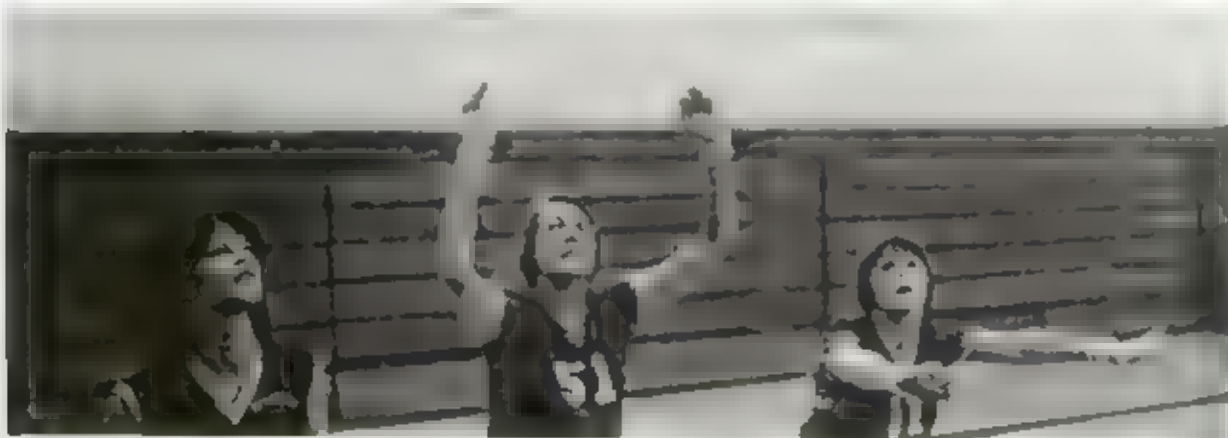

The Girl's Basketball Team may have shown femininity in the halls, but when it came to playing basketball, skills were displayed. Lori Hetrick and Cheryl Hummel, co-captains, led the girls to a surprising 7-3 finish. Diane McConahy averaged over 10 points per game with a single game high of 24 points. A well deserved Most Valuable Player Award went to Cindy Magargee. Along with the influence of Miss Mummy, unity and spirit were key factors which led the girls to finish 2nd in the Tri-County League.

Coach Mummy set the pace for the team and often molded future stars.

On the court, Cheryl Hummel revealed another side of her easy-going character

Cindy Magargee and Beth Fry patiently waited, confident they would get the rebound

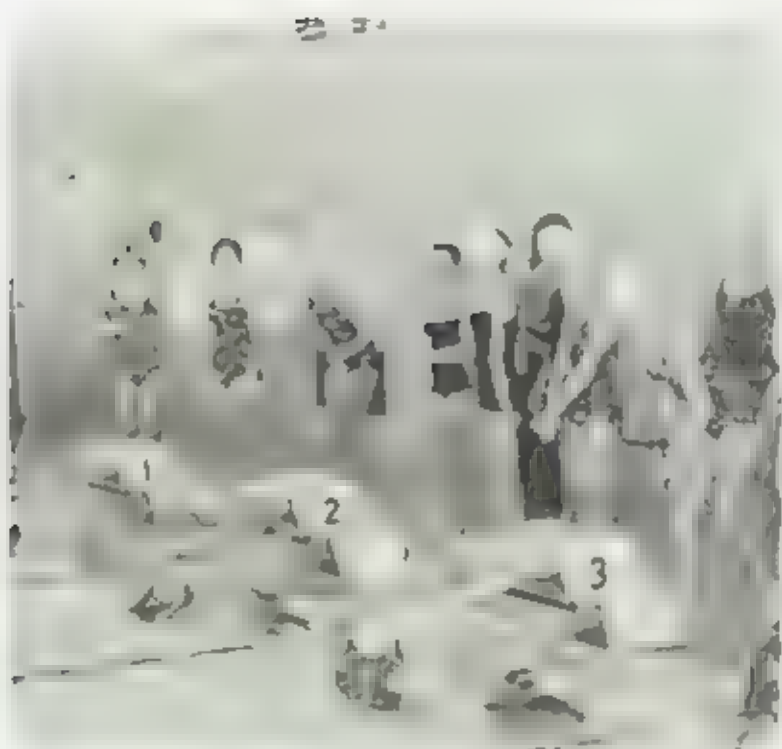

The hours of training and quick judgement made Monaca Baumgardner nimble on the court

Lor Hetrick showed her style which proved effective for the Pantherettes

Coach Gilkey could always be found giving moral support to her team

While the swimmers anticipated the sound of the starting gun, the remaining Green Marlins awaited their turn

After swimming a tiring event Terri Tinicani gratefully accepted a helping hand from Karen Shoaf

Marie Gibbons concentrated on her strategy for the swim meet

Lore Carbeau cheered her teammate Chris Barendsfield

Education — essential for modern living.

In a search of bettering the education of the students in the Riverside Beaver County School District, the Riverside School Board worked at its job effectively and well. Included in their work was consenting field trips in which students gained well-rounded experience. During the 1974-75 school year the Riverside School Board worked to obtain the highest quality of education. By promoting the future middle school, the school board aided in giving young students an opportunity for a more complete education. And they were certainly proud when it came to giving student recommendations for the fine students of Riverside.

Dr. Michael Carcise and Mr. Kenneth Yankee turned the first spade of dirt for the new middle school as others witnessed the event.

Personnel assistance doubled students' efforts.

Betterment of Riverside High School and its students was the aim of the 1974-75 Riverside Administration

They enforced rules with the well-being of students in mind. They offered opportunities of fun and education to broaden the students interests and learning. And all their energy was pointed in the direction of the improvement of Riverside and its education

Contemplation Riverside at work.

During the 1974-75 school year, the faculty at Riverside High School was comprised of dedicated and enthusiastic human beings. They were willing to give a part of themselves in order to develop the hidden potentials of their students and were always around to lend a helping hand. In times of crisis the faculty found ways to stay on top of the situation and somehow always found time to portray a friendly smile.

The Class of 1975

The final year unfolded and the months passed to just days and the days to just seconds as the seniors prepared to say good-bye and go their own separate ways. The "Senior Year" that everyone had so anxiously looked forward to for so many years was now nearly gone. But only the days were gone, for the good times throughout the year and the memories of the dinner dance, the prom, and even senior skip day would remain with each and every senior for the rest of their lives. It was a time of mixed emotions as graduation drew the year to a close with the seniors working together as a class for the final time. Truly moments are gone before they are noticed and now all that remains is a time for remembering

The Senior Dinner Dance was truly an evening to remember. The Holiday Inn in New Castle was the setting for a very enjoyable evening. Seniors and their guests enjoyed an Italian meal and afterwards danced to the sound of "Coconut". Although the mood was lighthearted, there was a touch of sadness as it would be the seniors' final social event

Riverside High School students began as 7th graders full of joy and laughter. We went through our years at Riverside reaching and grasping for that far off goal, whatever it was to be. We grew and learned, yet we went through life day after day letting so many things slip through our fingers unrecognized. The emotions we experienced and the dreams fantasized were once again left to drift off into the future as forgotten happenings. Yet pausing for one short second, we looked back for the last time on the moments that were gone before they were noticed.
